ResOURces Receives Prestigious Silver Inkwell Award

The Fairfax County Park Authority newsletter ResOURces has been named a winner in the 2007 Silver Inkwell Communications Awards Competition. Silver Inkwell Awards are presented each year by the Washington chapter of the International Association of Business Communicators (IABC) in recognition of high quality work in business communication. The entries are judged by senior communications professionals in the greater Washington, D.C. area.

ResOURces is a 12-page quarterly newsletter produced for the public by the Resource Management Division (RMD) of the Park Authority. The Park Authority is entrusted and charged with educating residents about stewardship of its wildlife, waterways and its more than 400 parks, nature centers and historic sites. ResOURces is a key component of that stewardship education and is a means of teaching people about nature, volunteering, history and horticulture in Fairfax County. It is available free by subscription (www.fairfaxcounty.gov/parks/resources-subscriptions.htm), online (www.fairfaxcounty.gov/parks/resources/printpub.htm), and at county recreation centers, libraries and Board of Supervisors' offices. Total distribution is 18,000.
